This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. NOTE.

The true bibliophile will recognize in the Hart Library, even from a casual perusal of the catalogue, a collection of great importance, containing treasures seldom found, even in great European private libraries, and it would seem superfluous to call attention to any of the many desirable items. The collection is rich in artistic and literary treasures which appeal to the taste, not only of the bibliophile and bibliopegist, but also to the collector of objects of true art, and to the seeker after rarities in general.

Foremost among the many treasures is the collection of historical and artistic bindings which form a very important division of the Hart Library, these bindings, being the individual handiwork of the artists, are certainly worthy specimens for a fine Art Museum, the first masters of the fifteenth century and later periods, as the Clovis family, Le Gascon, Du Seuil, Boyet and others, being represented by remarkable examples. The Provenances Illustres found in this division include books of the greatest rarity from the collections of Diana de Poitiers, Catherine de Medicis, Marguerite de Valois, Edward VI, Francis II, Charles I, Maioli, Colbert and other celebrities, and are worthy of especial attention.

Recent sales of early Americana prove that this branch of literature is meeting due appreciation among collectors and librarians, but we wish to specially mention the Canadiana in the present catalogue. It includes books from the first printers throughout Canada, and although to the American collector they may appear of comparatively late date, when it is considered that no printing press existed in Montreal prior to 1776, the numerous books included in this collection printed before 1820, or even before 1840, in Canada, must be reckoned among rarities.

The collection of autographs contains many original documents of the greatest rarity and of political and historic interest bearing on the history of Canada, especially during the French Dominion, covering almost the entire range from Roberval, the discoverer, 1542, to Vaudreuil, the last French Governor, as also specimens of the Sovereigns of France and England, Luther, Melanchton, Ferdinand and Isabella, and many others of equal value.

As usual in our catalogues, the arrangement is mainly alphabetical, with the exception of a few especially interesting groups, as Bindings, the French and English War of 1755–60, Canadian Laws and Imprints, the Canadian Rebellion of 1837, War of 1812, Maps, Autograph Letters and Historical Documents, Portraits and Prints.

26 ALCIATI. Andrea Alciati and his Books of Emblems, a biographical and bibliographical study. By Henry Green. Illustrations. 8° cloth, uncut. London, 1872

27 ALDINE (The), a Typographical Art Journal. Vols. 6, 7, 8. Numerous fine illustrations. 3 vols. folio, half morocco.
New York, 1873–76

28 Aldus. Petrarcha, Francesco. Le Cose volgari de Messer Francesco Petrarca. 12° vellum. (The first and last leaves slightly wormed and some leaves loose, otherwise a good copy.) Impresso nelle case d'Aldo Romano: Vinegia, 1501

An important rarity in more than one respect. It is the first edition of Petrarch published by Aldus, the first Italian book printed in italic type, and it is greatly prized as having been printed accurately from an original manuscript in the possession of Cardinal Bembo.
The above copy has the scarce leaf containing the sonnets against the Roman court, which are often cut out from this as well as other early editions. This copy also contains the scarce vindication of Aldus, added after the publication of the work.

29 ALDUS. Martialis Epigrammata. Fine large copy of this rare book. 16° bound by BOZERIAN JEUNE, in full blue straight grained morocco extra, back and sides richly tooled, gilt edges. In Aedibus Aldi: Venetiis, 1501

56 AMOURS (Les) de Pistion et de Fortunie. Tirées du voyage de Canada dicte France Nouvelle, a la Royne Marguerite. 18° full crimson morocco extra, gilt edges. (Some leaves apparently missing at the end.) Paris, 1606

Du Fossé, in cataloguing a copy of this book as a "Rarissime," states that he had a special search made in all the libraries of Paris and no other copy could be found.

57 ANACREONTIS Te[ios] Odæ, ab Henrico Stephano, luce at Latinitate nunc primum donatæ. 8° calf. (Cracked.)
Apud Henricum Stephanum, 1554

Clean copy of the EDITIO PRINCEPS.

According to Maittaire this was printed by S. Etienne when he was only 26 years of age. It is extremely rare and Mr. Quaritch gave £10 10s. for the Sunderland copy, and £5 5s. for the Beckford one. The above is a very interesting copy, and probably belonged to Queen Mary, as the binding is tooled on the back in gold with the royal crown and the rose of England, alternately, while at the bottom are the initials M. R. On the title page is a contemporary autograph, "Franciscus Rasius Chirurgus, 1555," and further down, "Ex D. Talæi dono, 1555," also in red ink and in a later hand, "Dedit J. Fabricio."

58 ANACREONTIS. Carmina cum Sapphocis et Alcæi fragmentis, Gr. 32° full old red morocco extra. Edinburgi, 1754

Printed entirely on silk taffeta. Only a very few copies were so issued.

59 ANACREON. Odes of Anacreon of Teos, literally translated into English Prose, with Notes, by Rev. Thomas Gilpin, Portrait. 8° boards, uncut. York, 1806

60 ANCIENT and Modern Familiar Quotations from Greek, Latin, and Modern Languages. Translated into English, with index. 8° half morocco. Phila., 1833

61 ANDERSON, E. L. How to Ride and School a Horse. With a System of Horse Gymnastics. 12° cloth, uncut.
London, 1881

62 ANDERSON, W. J. Life of Field-Marshal H. R. H. Edward, Duke of Kent, illustrated by his correspondence with the De Salaberry family, never before published, extending from 1791 to 1814. 8° cloth. Ottawa, 1870

63 ANDREWS, John. History of the War with America, France, Spain, and Holland, from 1775 to 1783. Vols. 2, 3, 4 (2 copies). 4 vols. 8° calf. (Portraits missing.) London, 1786

64 ANNESLY, J. Memoirs of an Unfortunate Young Nobleman, returned from Thirteen Years Slavery in America, where he was sent by the wicked contrivance of his cruel uncle. Both parts. 2 vols. 12° old calf. London, 1742–43

One of the most curious and romantic cases in the Peerage. James Annesly, Marquis of Annesly, was kidnapped while a child, and sold as a slave or bond servant in this country, from which he returned after thirteen years of labor, and recovered his estates after one of the greatest law-suits that has ever been tried. The volume contains much concerning colonial life and manners in America, and the whole story is the basis of Scott's Guy Mannering, Charles Reade's Wandering Heir, and a portion of Smollett's Peregrine Pickle.

65 ANNESLY. The Case of the Honorable James Annesly, Esq. Being a Sequel to the Memoirs of an Unfortunate Young Nobleman. 12° old calf. London, 1745

66 ANNUAIRE de L'Institut Canadien de Quebec. Nos. 1–9, 1874–82. 9 vols. 8° paper. Quebec.

All published. Historical Essays by best Canadian writers.

68 ANTIDOTE against Melancholy. Compounded of Choice Poems, Jovial Songs, Merry Ballads, and Witty Parodies, most pleasant and diverting to read. Small 4° paper, uncut. New York, 1884

69 Antonius, St. (Archbishop of Florence). Tractatus Notabilis de Excoicationibus Suspecionibus Interdictis Irregulitativ, etc. Black Letter. Printed in double columns on 135 leaves. 4°. Bound by TRAUTZ-BAUZONNET in polished crushed levant morocco, sage color, inside gold borders, edges gilt on marble. Venetiis, ductu et impensis Johannis de Colonia agripinesi ac Johanis Mathen et Gherretzem, 1474

Excessively rare, and in magnificent condition, with broad margins. This was the Yeminez copy and has inserted the bookplate of that collection. The volume is one of the first books printed with signatures by John de Cologne and John Manthen de Geretzen, who were the first to use them in Venice and in 1474.

70 Appianus. Cosmographicus Liber Petri Apiani Mathematici studiose collectus. Black Letter. Numerous cosmographical plates, some with revolving diagrams, globe on title, and arms on verso of title. Small 4° boards (slightly wormed) J. Weyssenburger: Landshut, 1524

Very rare black letter and a fine copy of the first edition of the "Cosmography" of Apianus. This, from MS. on the title, was at one time in the possession of an Augustinian monastery. The wood-cut of the globe on the title and the arms of the Cardinal Archbishop of Saltzburg, are printed from wood blocks in two colors, black and red. This is a very early specimen of block printing in colors. On page second is a globe with the word "Ameri" on an island. There are several revolving diagrams, some on earlier printed matter — That on page 63 contains the word "America." On page 69 the fourth chapter begins in Latin with, "America, which is now called the fourth part of the world, took its name from Americus Vespuccio, who discovered it; and it is called an island for the reason that it is surrounded with water."

71 APPEL de l'Angleterre touchant la secrete Cabale ou Assemblée a Withael à et envers le grand conseil de la nation, Amsterdam, 1673; — Comparatio inter Claudium Tiberium Principem, el Olivarium Cromwellium instituta, 1657. Bound in 1 vol. Small 4° vellum.

72 APPLETON, Nathaniel. Thanksgiving Sermon on the total Repeal of the Stamp Act, Cambridge, May 20, 1766. 8° stitched, uncut. Boston, 1766

73 APOLLONIUS, L. Levini Apollonii, Gandobruani, de Peruviæ Regionis, inter Navis Orbis prouincias celeberrimæ, inuentione, et rebus in eadem gestis. With the scarce wood cut map. 12° stamped pigskin. Antverpiæ, 1567

An account of the discovery of Peru and the wars with the Incas.

74 ARABIAN Nights. The Book of the Thousand Nights and One Night. Now first completely done into English prose and verse, from the original Arabic. By John Payne. With 21 etchings by A. Lalauze. India proofs. 9 vols. full vellum gilt, uncut edges. London, 1884

214 HANTHALER, C. Exercitationes Faciles de Numis Veterum pro Tyronibus. 4° magnificently bound in calf extra gilt, inside gold borders and gauffered edges. Nuremberg, 1735

Superb example of binding. The entire sides and back are covered with gilt tooling of birds, leaves and flowers, within paneled gilt lace-work borders. In the centre of two sides are decorations, with the date "1736," and with the coat of arms, mitre and crosier of "Bernardus Abbas Ettalensis." On the recto, within a medallion, is a "Madonna and Child," with the legend "Fvndatrix Monasterj Ettalensis."

215 HENRI II and Diane de Poitiers. A Gellii Lvcvlentissimi Scriptoris Noctes Atticæ. Charming engraved border on title. Small 4° black morocco, gilt.
Cologne, Opera et Impensa Ioannis Soteris, 1526

From the library of Henri II of France and Diana of Poitiers. One of the rarest examples of their books. The sides are paneled in gold, and in the centre of each of the four fillets is the interlaced monogram "D. H." (Diana et Henri), accompanied by fleurs-de-lys and crosses. In the centre of each side of the cover is the coat of arms of France, surmounted by a crown, and surrounded by the grand collar of the Order of Saint Esprit. Below is the favorite emblem of Diana de Poitiers, "a crescent moon," on the right and left of which is repeated the initial letter "H." of her regal lover.

216 HENRY VIII. Sextus Decretalium Liber, per Bonifacium octauum Pontificem santcissimum in Lugdunensi consilio editis. Black Letter, with wood cut on title. 16° in the original calf. King Henry VIII's copy, with the royal arms stamped in blind tooling on the sides. Paris, 1523

An English 16th century stamped binding, executed for Henry VIII, of great rarity.

The following is an exact description of the tooling:

Recto Cover.—Panel stamped with the king's arms, bearing quarterly France and England, supported by a dragon and a greyhound, and ensigned with a royal crown. Ground or field dotted with stars. In the top corners, the arms of the city of London in a shield, with the sun on one side, the crescent moon on the other.

Reverse Cover.—Panels stamped with the Indos rose, encircled with a ribbon, on which is inscribed, in old Gothic letters:

"Hæc rosa virtutis de cœlo missa sereno, Asternum florens regia sceptra feret."

supported by two angels. The arms of London are on recto, and at bottom the binder's mark of Julian Notary, with his initials, England s fourth printer, but doing contemporary printing with Caxton, for whom, no doubt, he worked.

This binding and stamp belong to the older model, used by Pynson and Julian Notary for Henry VII and continued for Henry VIII, until changed by John Reynor.

One cover loose and blemishes in the binding in several places, but but as fine a specimen as is now obtainable.

1031 GIUSTINIANI, Agostino. Psalterium, hebreum, grecu, arabicu., et chaldeu., cu. tribus latinis iterpratatoibus. Et glossis. Finely engraved and rubricated title. Folio, half sheep. Peter Paul Porrus: Genoa, 1516

Excessively rare. A good copy of the celebrated Psalter of Agostino Giustiniani, Bishop of Nebbio, in Hebrew, Greek, Arabic and Chaldean. It is one of the earliest polyglots ever printed, and is especially valuable as being the first book with a life of Columbus. This is to be found on the first page of the twenty-sixth leaf. The first lines of the life have been translated as follows, viz.: — "Then it was that Christopher named Columbus, a Genoese by birth, of low family, who, in our times, by his energy, explored in a few months a greater extent of land and of sea than almost all the rest of mankind ever did in all past ages, etc,, etc."

The volume was condemned to be burned by the common hangman as it contained statements injurious to Columbus, and thus indirectly attacked Pope Alexander the Sixth's deeding the Continent of America to Spain, on the assertions of the discoverer. Fernando Columbus, in his — "Historia del Amirante" and refutation of "The twelve lies of Giustiniani," says: — We will only add that considering the many mistakes and falsehoods found in the said Giustiniani's History and Psalter, the Senate of Genoa has laid a penalty upon any person that shall read or keep it; and has caused it to be carefully sought out in all places it has been sent to, that it may, by public decree, be destroyed and utterly extinguished."

1032 GUNPOWDER Plot. True Relations of the whole Proceedings against the late most Barbarous Traitors, Garnet, a Jesuite, and his Confederates (Guy Fawkes, Rookwood, Bates, Catesby, Tresham, Sir Everard Digby, etc.), and all that passed at Garnet's execution. A valuable work, containing 680 curious portraits, views, plans, costumes, and including 65 plates relating to America, views of Quebec, Virginia, Florida, etc.

1515 Manuscript on Vellum. Heures de la Reine Marguerite de Navarre. A beautifully executed Latin Book of Hours, written on 125 leaves of fine vellum, with 12 large and 5 small miniatures, of which, 13 to the Offices of the Virgin, Penitential Psalms and Vigil of the Dead, and 4 to the selections from the Evangelists, also 17 exquisitely finished illuminated borders, and several hundred beautiful illuminated initials, heightened with gold. In a rich 16th century binding. 8° morocco, covered with golden daisies.

Sæc. XVI

MARGARET OF NAVARRE'S Prayer Book in a sumptuous "REINE MARGOT" binding by CLOVIS EVE. Executed for Queen Margaret by "Gilles Debreene" in an exquisite manner, with her motto and legend, "Spes mea Deus" and "Suffixe Toi," and her favorite flowers several times introduced in the ornamental borders.

This is a Manuscript of exceptional value, of great artistic and historical interest and in a marvelously fine preservation. The large miniatures are generally painted with architectural and landscape back ground, and finished in an excellent manner of gilding and coloring, they represent: St. John at Pathmos, Pentecost, Annunciation to the Virgin, Visitation of Elizabeth, Adoration of Joseph and Mary, Annunciation to the Shepherds, Adoration of the Maggi, Presentation in the Temple, Slaughter of the Innocents, Assumption of the Virgin, David, and another; the small miniatures are St. Luke, St. Matthew, St. Mark, The Virgin, and Descent from the Cross.

The borders are very brilliant and beautifully painted on gold ground in a great variety combining the conventional geometrical designs, with elegant ornamentation of flowers and foliage; the animals, birds and butterflies in the borders are especially well executed. A unique feature of the borders is Queen Marguerite's motto, several times introduced in the design, as also the occurence of the fleur de lys and the daisy.

Valuable as this gem is in itself, an additional value is added by the exquisite binding by Clovis Eve, in which it is encased.

The binding which is in marvelously fine preservation, was evidently done for "Reine Margot" Margaret of Valois; the tooling covering the entire panels, is "à petits fers" consisting of a wide and a narrower border of branches, divided by gold fillets, the inner compartment filled in with small medallions formed by branches, daisies and other flowers, filling all the empty spaces.

1516 Manuscript on Vellum. Horae Beatae Mariae Virginis, cum Calendarium. A French manuscript of the fourteenth century, executed on 70 leaves of fine vellum, with 13 large full page and 5 small miniatures, exquisitely illuminated borders to every page and hundreds of illuminated letters, all heightened with gold ON A PURPLE GROUND. 8° in contemporary stamped calf. Sæc, XIV

A remarkable and very valuable Book of Hours, by an artist of great merit and many resources, judging from the great variety of design and the artistic finish of the miniatures and the borders.

The large miniatures being of unusual size, covering almost the entire page, are of the highest style of art and are true pictures of the costumes and architecture of the period. At the bottom of every miniature is a large head with extended wings and under the Crucifixion is the Arms defaced of the original proprietor having two large animals (wolves) as supporters.

The delineation of the faces especially is the work of a master and these as well as the costumes are of exceptional billiancy and finished with attention to the minutest details.

The borders are of an elaborate and rich geometrical design on gold ground, some blended with a floriated pattern and scroll work, and some worked up in geometrical squares, triangles, etc., blended with foliage and flowers.

The large miniatures are: The Annunciation, Mary and Elizabeth, Adoration of Joseph and Mary, Annunciation to the Shepherds, Adoration of the Magi, Circumcision, Slaughter of the Innocents, Assumption of Mary, David sending the letter, Christ carrying the Cross, Descent of the Holy Ghost, Lazarus, Crucifixion. The small miniatures represent St. Mary, Magdalene, St. Katherine, St. Margueite, St. Barbara and St. Lawrence with his typical gridiron.

1517 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis, cum Calendario. A finely written manuscript on 107 leaves, of the fourteenth century, with miniatures and numerous illuminated borders, heightened with gold. 4° in old stamped calf. Sæc, XIV

This manuscript is of early English or Norman execution, as is evidenced by the presence in the calendar of the names of Edward, King of England, St. Aithelertia, St. Dustan, St. Etheldred, St. Armulph, St. Osibald, St. Wilfride and other distinctively English Saints. The calendar is unfortunately lacking one leaf. On the recto of f. 6, at the commencement of the vol., is a very large initial letter D, within which is the Virgin and Child seated, the back-ground being of carmine with gold tracery. This initial is continued in a border surrounding the entire page, beautifully ornamented and heightened with burnished gold, and within which are full-length figures of angels with harps and cymbals; at bottom an escutcheon, which is blank. On recto of f. 34 is a similar initial with the Virgin and Child, but of different treatment in the border, etc. In addition to these there are some fourteen other pages, ornamented with borders of colors and gold of the most tasteful and intricate design, besides several hundred initials in gold, some of which have spraying branches in red, purple, etc., covering the side margin.

The text is most beautifully written and is almost free from the contractions usually found in MS. of this and subsequent periods, and would indicate even an earlier period than that of the 14th century.

The volume has had hard usage, and many of the pages are unfortunately disfigured by stains and dirt.

1518 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis. MS. on vellum. Very uniformly written in large letters on 164 leaves of vellum of exceptional purity, with TWELVE LARGE MINIATURES of superb execution, each surrounded with a broad border of tracery with flowers and scroll ornaments, heightened with burnished gold, with hundreds of illuminated initial letters, etc., with nine additional leaves of prayers in script. Thick 4° old contemporary leather, stamped sides, gilt edges. Sæc, XIV–XV

A very choice example, remarkable for the purity of its condition and the beauty of the miniatures, of which there are twelve, occupying nearly half the page, and surrounded with richly floriated and gold bars.

The calendar is on two leaves, in red and black, with names in French.

The miniatures are: 1. Annunciation; 2. Elizabeth and Mary; 3. Adoration by Joseph and Mary; 4. Annunciation to the Shepherds; 5. Adoration of the Magi; 6. Presentation in the Temple; 7. Flight into Egypt; 8. Assumption of the Virgin; 9. David (prefixed to Psalms and Litany); 10. Crucifixion; 11. Pentecost; 12. Burial Service; 13. Madonna and Child, after which follows a series of prayers to the Virgin in French, on 8 leaves; also several other leaves of prayers in a later hand. At commencement are several entries of births and deaths, with signatures Segault, Arthault, etc.

1519 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis. A French manuscript, executed about 1350, written in an artistic manner on 240 leaves of very fine vellum, exquisitely illuminated throughout with 21 miniatures, surrounded by page floriated borders, upwards of 100 illuminated borders and capitals and hundreds of smaller illuminated initials and finial bars, all richly heightened with burnished gold. Thick 12° in a contemporary calf binding covered with tooling in the Maioli manner. Sæc, XV

This is a valuable and rare example of the best French school of illumination, the 21 miniatures (all very bright and in perfect condition) are very carefully finished and of great delicacy of execution, on a back ground of landscape, and blue firmament, in the early style; the page borders around the miniatures are of a pronounced but very neat floriated pattern, with insects, birds and animals; the numerous smaller borders are a combination of a floriated arabesque and filligree pattern, richly dotted with burnished gold, and are remarkable for the variety and excellence of design.

The miniatures represent: 1. St. John with Eagle; 2. Annunciation; 3. Mary and Elizabeth; 4. Betrayal; 5. Pentecost; 6. Adoration by Joseph and Mary; 7. Christ Scourged; 8. Annunciation to Shepherds; 9. Christ bearing the Cross; 10. Adoration of the Magi; 11. Christ nailed to the Cross; 12. Slaughter of the Innocents; 13. Crucifixion; 14. Presentation in Temple; 15. Descent from the Cross; 16. Assumption of the Virgin; 17. Entombment; 18. David slaying Goliath; 19. Christ raising Lazarus; 20. Priest adoring Christ from whose side blood is spouting; 21. St. Veronica with face of Christ.

1520 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ. Beautifully written by a French artist on 148 leaves of vellum, with several hundred of illuminated initials and elaborate floriated borders on every page, heightened with gold. Small 4° old russia.

Sæc, XV

Two leaves of the calendar and the first leaves of each of the four gospels are missing, but the Missal is nevertheless very valuable on account of the numerous illuminated borders, which are of superior execution and exceptional richness and in fine condition.

1521 Manuscript on Vellum. Biblia Latina. Written in an almost microscopic, but wonderfully clear and distinct hand on 376 leaves of the finest vellum, and ornamented with 75 miniatures, 64 illuminated and gilt capitals, and ornamental borders of an elegant and delicate tracery in red and blue, on almost every page. Small 4° in a seventeenth century calf binding, enclosed in a red morocco case. Sæc, XIII

"Written in England in the reign of Edward I (about A. D. 1290), and offering an unusually fine example of the art of illumination. The small miniatures are drawn with singular skill and delicacy, the colouring is richly harmonious, the gold in the ground-work is very pure and bright, and the whole effect extremely elegant. It has been supposed that the book was written at Canterbury, as it is closely akin in its calligraphy and ornamentation to the style of a similar MS. now in the British Museum, which is said to bear the date of the cathedral city about A. D. 1250–60."

There are some notes in a sixteenth or early seventeenth-century hand; one of them, at the end, being a copy of Henri II's epitaph, with variants.

1522 Manuscript on Vellum. Missall. A manuscript on upwards of 200 leaves of vellum, in large gothic characters, with music noted, with rubrics and initial letters; also many large and elaborately ornamented initials. Royal 4° full embossed morocco, inside vellum covers, leather binders.

A valuable and beautifully executed MS. in large characters. The manuscript, which is in the same hand throughout, is in exceptionally fine state of preservation, if we except the defects in the parchment, which, owing to the large size of the sheets, it seems to have been difficult to obtain in absolute perfect state; these imperfections have in each instance been carefully mended by sewing, and have been avoided by the scribe.

Lesser capitals are employed as the initials of phrases: There are but few abbreviations: u and v are both employed to express the sound of the latter letter. The illuminated initials are of peculiar interest, being entirely of the style pertaining to the Irish and Anglo-Saxon MSS., brilliant in color, and composed of minute and delicate interlacings, "a style of art, originated, cultivated and brought to a most marvellous state of perfection, absolutely distinct from that of any other part of the civilized world, and which, having been carried abroad by numerous Irish and Anglo-Saxon missionaries, was adopted and imitated in the Schools or Monasteries established or visited by the former, many of which, in after ages, became the most famous seats of learning." On this subject Mr. Digby Wyatt observes "that in delicacy of handling, and minute but faultless execution, the whole range of Palæography offers nothing comparable to the early Irish and Anglo-Saxon MSS.

From the Blenheim Palace Collection.

1523 Manuscript on Vellum. Horæ. A Flemish Missal written on 170 leaves of vellum, with 34 large illuminated capitals and as many ornamental borders, all heightened with burnished gold. (One leaf of the calendar missing.) Square 16° calf, gilt leaves. Sæc, XV

1524 Manuscript on Vellum. Psalmorum Liber Horæ Diurnum. Written by an English artist on 300 leaves of fine vellum, with 5 beautiful illuminated letters and floriated borders, heightened with burnished gold, and several hundred initials, ornamented with fine diaper tracery, the flourishes of which are drawn the full length of the columns. Square 18° calf. (Covers loose.) Sæc, XV

1525 Manuscript on Vellum. Manual Diurnum cum Calendario. Written on 165 leaves of vellum, with numerous rubricated initials. Thick 18° old calf, with brass bosses on the sides. Sæc, XV

1526 Manuscript on Vellum. Hypognosticon Laurentii Dunelmensis, etc. Original manuscript written on vellum about the year 1150, by Lawrence of Durham, and consisting of 206 pages of Gotho-Norman script in black and red with occasional illuminated letters at the commencement of the heads of the different divisions of the poem. 8° rough calf in leather case. Sæc, XII

"This remarkable manuscript and precious relic of the literature of our forefathers, written over 300 years before the invention of printing, antedates the "Romance of the Rose" of Guillaume de Lorris and Jean de Meung by more than a century.

The above consists of two parts, the first a Latin Poem in hexameter verse, taking in towards the close rhythmical descriptions of ecclesiastical history and composed by the scribe Lawrence, Prior of the Abbey of Durham, England. The second part comprises translations from St. John Chrysostom, passages from St. Augustine and other Fathers of the Church. It is textually in splendid condition with the exception of a few marginalia in the second part, of which portions have been in places cut off by the binder's plow. There are altogether 206 pages, of which the "Hypognosticon," including three pages of prologue, makes 103 pages."

From the Lenox-Kennedy Collection.

1527 Manuscript on Vellum. Origenes. Incip' pfatio Rufini in expositione originis sup eplam pauli ad Romanos translata ab eode de greco in latinum. MS. on vellum in semi-Caroline minuscules, with 10 painted initials formed by interlacements of green, yellow, red, blue and white, some of them containing figures of Chimeras. Small folio, French red morocco extra, gilt edges. About A. D. 1100

"This was apparently executed in Normandy or somewhere in North-east France in a monastry where the traditions of Irish or Anglo-Saxon art-decoration still survived. In the numerous dotted edge lines that appear in the initials or on the figures within them, we observe this particularly. The figure of St. Paul (with others) in the first initial U is strikingly like the earlier Anglo-Saxon work."

1528 Manuscript on Vellum. Colonna, Egidio. De Regimine Principum. Folio 1: A son especial seigneur ne de lignie roial & sainte mon seigneur phelippe ains ne fiz & oir mō seigneur phelippe tres noble roi de france par la grace de deu. frere Gile de Rōme son clerc. . . . At end: Ci fine li liures du goūnement des rois & des princes q'fere Gires de Rōme de lordre de saint Aug'tin a fet. Le ql liure mestre Henri de Gauchi par le cōmandemēnt le noble roi Phelipe de france a tnslate de latin en franceis. Manuscript on Vellum; with border, in which are displayed dog and rabbit fighting with swords, nondescripts and grotesques; and a large initial letter historiated with the author presenting his book to the king; many smaller initial letters finely illuminated in gold and colors. Folio, bound in violet velvet, gilt edges, with ornamental brass corners, the arms of Clermont on sides. About A. D. 1300

Egidio Colonna, better known as Ægidius Romanus, was a Pupil of Thomas Aquinas, and was surnamed the profound scholar. He died at Avignon in 1316, having been Archbishop of Bourges since 1292. This work was written before 1285, as shown by its dedication to Philippe le Bel before his accession to the throne. The date of Gauchi's translation is not ascertained, but the present MS. proves that it was anterior to 1300, probably almost contemporary with the Latin original. Although the above MS. (probably written at Bourges) is said to have been in Claude D'Urfé's possession (middle of the sixteenth century) it had been in English hands at a still earlier date. Several minute glosses in English, in a handwriting of Henry VII's time, are visible on the margins. Amongst these we find boorderesses =iangelars (i. e. idle gossipers), enclume=anefeld (anvil), euuref=ledis or actis, aenutz=pig-carde, forslignent=loth ayenst kind, ramenez=broght ayen, etc.

1529 Manuscript on Vellum. Augustini (Beati) Tractatus in Psalmos Canticum Graduum et Enchiridion. Written by a Spanish scribe on 180 leaves of vellum. Small folio, in the original oak boards, with leather covering (petrified). Sæc, XII

At the end is a notice that the scribe's name was Didacus, and an inscription claims the MS. as "Liber Sanctæ Mariæ de Beneviere: qui abstulent Anathena sit."

Benevivere was the ancient name of the Cistercian Abbey of Valverde in old Castile founded in 1169.

1530 Manuscript on Vellum. Lactantius Firmianus De Divinis Institutionibus adversus Gentes. Folio, vellum. Sæc, XV

A superb specimen, and in irreprochable condition, of a manuscript executed in Italy at the highest period of the renaissance of the art.

Written in the highest art of caligraphy on 245 leaves of pure vellum of fine quality; decorated with a large number of painted initials with ornamental tracery reaching almost the whole length of the page. Each of the seven books commences with a large illuminated capital, richly decorated with colored ornaments in the renaissance style, and heightened with burnished gold.

1531 Manuscript on Vellum. Lettered: Libellas Augustatis, but consisting of two separate Treatises, the first giving a short account of the Roman Emperors, the second (by Petrus Lomer) is a Treatise on Renunciation of the World. Written by different hands on about 100 leaves of fine vellum, in the early Roman or the 14th or 15th century, which bears a strong resemblance to the Caroline Minuscule, with numerous fine illuminated initials and borders of very fine diaper tracery. Both the treatises are apparently incomplete. 4° half vellum. Sæc, XV

1532 Manuscript on Vellum. Origines super Epistolam Pauli ad Romanos. Norman manuscript on vellum, written on 133 leaves in semi-Caroline Minuscules, with painted interlacing initials containing figures. Small folio, full red morocco, red edges. Sæc, XI–XII

"The illustrative portion resembles the work of Anglo-Saxon scribes, but seems ascribable to Norman hands."

1533 Manuscript on Vellum. Maimonides. Millos hor Higgajom. A Treatise of the celebrated Hebrew Commentator of the 12th century, written on vellum. Square 18° old red morocco extra, broad dentelle border on the sides, gilt edges. Sæc, XV

1534 Manuscript. CHRONICLES of St Denis. Cy Commence leffort et la substance du fait des Roy de France selon les Chroniqnes de Saint Denys en France. Thick folio, half morocco. Saec, XIV

A valuable Manuscript Chronicle, in fine condition, ending with the death and burial of Louis VIII. (A. D. 1226).

1535 Manuscript. BRUTE'S Chronicles of Englande. English Manuscript on Paper, closely written, with initials, rubrics, and marginal references and notes, by a more modern hand. On recto of leaf 135 is the following colophon: "Here endethe A boke callid Brute of the Chroniculis of Englound made and compiled by notabill clerkis of all the actis of all ye Kyngis that evir was in this londe sithend Brute first conquerid it." Wanting first leaf, containing a part of the prologue, otherwise perfect and in fine condition. A very interesting and valuable manuscript, written some sixty years previous to the first edition printed by Caxton, to which it corresponds with tolerable accuracy, except in orthography and occasional turns of phrase, which Caxton modernized in his book. 135 leaves. Small folio, full bound in olive antique morocco, gilt edges.

1536 MANUSCRIPT. Burghley Mildred, (Daughter of Sir Anthony Cooke, Wife of Lord Burghley and Aunt of Lord Bacon) Sermon Isaiæ primo and Prayer, very neatly written autograph manuscript, ruled with red ink throughout, and containing the writer's autograph in full, and a MS Pedigree of her family. Small 4° vellum, with silk ribbons. About 1550

Mildred, eldest daughter of Sir Anthony Cooke, married at the age of 20, Sir W. Cecil, afterwards created Lord Burghley. She was one of the most learned women of her Age, and more particularly excelled in her knowledge of the Greek Language.

1537 Manuscript. EARLY Italian School. Two Miniatures. I. Scene in the Life of a Saint, introducing eight figures, apparently the foundation of a Monastery or some religious edifice by a Pope, who wears a single-crowned mitre. 6 1-2 in. by 5 in. II. Christ's commission to St. Peter, beautifully finished. 4 inches square, both from a large choral book, by an Italian artist, probably of the School of Pisa. Sæc. XIII

Two high class Miniatures and desirable specimens of early art.

1538 MANUSCRIPT. Les Lettres Canadienes, 1700–1725. A Series of 257 unpublished letters in French written by and to persons in Canada, covering the events happening in the principal Capitals of Europe and a Voyage through Canada, with a curious Dissertation on the Savages, their Country, Manner of Life, Religion, and other curious things. Legibly and uniformly written on folio paper, titled, numbered and indexed. 2 vols. folio, full calf, lettered. Curious, unique, and exceedingly valuable.

1539 MANUSCRIPT. Relatione di Spagna fatta dall' excmo Signore Leonardo Moro Ambassiadore Veneto presso il Re Cattolico dell 1629. Italian Manuscript neatly written on 102 leaves. 4° vellum. From the Sunderland Library. 1630

"The first edition of one of the most celebrated geographical works of the sixteenth century.

Among the maps are one of the whole world, another of America, with Terra del Fuego extending east and west, forming a great southern continent. The map entitled "Septentrionalium Regionum," contains Greenland, with numerous rivers, and upon the southern side the towns of Aiba and St. Thomas. West of Greenland, corresponding to the western shore of Davis' Strait of our day, is Estotiland, South of this is the island of Drogeo, and east of this towards Iceland is the larger island of Frisland, upon which several towns, capes and gulfs are laid down. These three latter named places are lands claimed to have been discovered by the brothers Zeni.

Mr. Muller in his Catalogue of books on America, No. 1856, p. 122, says that a copy of this edition was exhibited at the exhibition for Geographical Sciences at Antwerp in 1871, and supposed to be unique. It wanted map No. 46."— Murphy Catalogue.

Large folio, original stamped calf. (Covers broken, but otherwise a very good copy.)

Anno Virginei Partus, MDVIII: Rome, 1508

"Valuable for the addition of the map of the world by Johan Ruysch, a German, which is the first printed map on which the discoveries in America, are laid down, but without the name of America, and especially for its delineation of the coast of Brazil, which is evidently derived from the voyages of Vespucius. Newfoundland is shown, not as an island, but as part of the Asiatic continent. The discoveries of Columbus in the West Indies and on the northern coast of South America are represented very clearly, showing Cuba only in part, and as far as the great discoverer himself had explored it. With the exception of the error in connecting the northern discoveries on the main land of Asia, the prevailing idea of that day, this map is a correct representation of the state of American discovery at the time of its publication." —Murphy Cat.

Chez Claude Sonnius: Paris, 1636

"Of the excessive rarity of this book, an idea may be formed from the fact that the late Mr. Edwin Tross sought for many years before he could obtain a copy to reprint, as he had already reprinted the Voyage. In the preface he states that "on a offert, durant des années, 1200 fr. d'un exemplaire de l'Histoire, sans pouvoir s'en procurer un seul.' This statement has reference to over twenty years ago, and as valuable old books have since then increased remarkably in price as well as in rarity, the cost of this last copy is relatively low.

Only two copies are known, besides this, containing the four pages at the end, which give the native words and the music of a Huron song and an Iroquois hymn."—Quaritch Cat.

Quebec, 1775

The above two volumes are the result of a "supreme effort" by a Canadian binder and are very interesting as such; the ornamentation consists of a very elaborate tooling on inlaid leather of various colors, and is certainly very original, but the combination of colors is rather surprising.

The difficulty of getting early editions of School books is recognized by all Book-collectors and Librarians everywhere, the following series would be most difficult to duplicate in the early dates.

Printed by Thomas Cotes, for Robert Allot, and are to be sold at the signe of the Black Beare in Paul's Churchyard: London, 1632

An excellent copy of the extremely rare second folio, with good margins, the original Droeshout portrait neatly inlaid, the leaf containing Jonson's verses, leaf of dictation, and two leaves at the end neatly mended. J. G. Nichol's copy, with his autograph and notes.

An additional value is given to the above copy by the numerous manuscript notes it contains, recording all the variations from the first folio, every change from the former edition is carefully recorded, giving the book an especial interest.

"As to the value of the text of this Second Folio, a diversity of opinions exist. Stanton says, 'it corrects some of the most palpable typographical mistakes of the first folio.' The price of this second folio, though constantly advancing, does not show the marked advance of the first. Fifty or sixty years ago a second folio generally brought at auction in London, from £20 to £30. Mr. Perkin's copy sold for £44, while Mr. Daniel's copy realized the highest price paid at a public sale, £148."
